1. CHAIRMAN'S INTRODUCTION

Chairman's Introduction

This is our sixth annual report. Two patterns have emerged from our deliberations during the six years of our existence. The first concerns the relations between, on one hand, recreational users of the Park, and, on the other, landowners and farmers. When Local Access Forums were set up, it was envisaged that they would be arenas in which intractable disagreements between these two interest groups would be fought out. In the case of the Yorkshire Dales Access Forum, no such disagreements have emerged, and this past year has not broken the pattern. Indeed, it may be that the landowning/farming interest is now confident that public access does not threaten its own interest, and that, as a consequence, representatives no longer need to put themselves forward for Local Access Forum membership. If so, this is regrettable, for the Forum's success depends, to a considerable extent, upon the contribution that only the landowning/farming interest can supply.

The second pattern that has emerged from our work concerns our relations with the Yorkshire Dales National Park Authority. When Local Access Forums were set up, many had to advise local authorities for which the question of public access was novel. But public access is no novelty in the Yorkshire Dales: it has been meat and drink for the National Park Authority ever since it was set up, 50 years ago. This means that the Yorkshire Dales Access Forum has rarely been in the position of giving advice in an area that the National Park Authority has never considered, and it has never found itself in outright opposition to the Authority's policies. On the contrary, we have usually found ourselves agreeing with the policies and programmes promoted by the Authority. The Access Forum is fully independent of the Authority, so our relationship with it must not become too cosy, but we must recognise that our most helpful contribution will probably be to get alongside the Authority's officers in advisory groups whose purpose is to make progress in areas of common interest.

The advisory groups that have been set up have started to deliver practical results. Perhaps the most notable was the successful promotion of trips high into the fells for a group of disabled people, using electrically-powered scooters. Other working groups, such as the watersports group, are tackling issues where agreement between various interest groups (anglers, canoeists) cannot be assumed in advance.

The most contentious access issue facing the Authority is the issue of recreational motor vehicles on green lanes. Here, the Local Access Forum was in accord with the Authority: At its meetings, Local Access Forum members voted, nem con, to support the imposition, by the Yorkshire Dales National Park Authority's Access Committee of traffic regulation orders on five green lanes, in addition to the eight it recommended last year.

Finally, the Local Access Forum has educated itself by hearing presentations from both its own members, and from visitors. Pat Whelan told us about farming in the Yorkshire Dales, Jon Beavan gave us a presentation on caving, and Michael Breckon told us about the national byway scheme for cyclists.

2 THE YORKSHIRE DALES ACCESS FORUM

2.1 The Role of the Yorkshire Dales Access Forum

It is the function of Yorkshire Dales Access Forum, in respect to the Yorkshire Dales National Park, to advise -

- (a) Yorkshire Dales National Park Authority (as the appointing authority), and the local highway authority for any part of the area,
- (b) any bodies exercising functions under the Countryside and Rights of Way Act (CRoW Act) Part 1 in relation to land in that area,
- (c) such other bodies as may be prescribed.

as to the improvement of public access to land for the purposes of open air recreation and the enjoyment of the area, and as to such other matters as may be prescribed, (CRoW Act s94(4)).

In consequence of the above the Yorkshire Dales Access Forum may comment on any aspect of the management of local access undertaken.

For example:

- advise the National Park Authority on any long term restrictions or exclusions on access land in its area;
- advise the National Park Authority on how public access to land in its area should be managed so as to reduce the impact of access on agriculture, conservation or land management, or to reduce the risk to public safety;
- advise on the means by which information to the public on access land, including restrictions and opportunities should be provided;
- make representations to the Planning Inspectorate during the course of any appeal brought by a person with a legal interest in the land; and

Yorkshire Dales Access Forum may be requested to provide advice on:

- strategies or plans incorporating recreation and access which set rights of way and open access in a broad context, integrating provision for access, all forms of open air recreation to land and water, and transport, tourism, health and public information for example the Integrated Access Strategy for the Yorkshire Dales National Park, and the Cumbria Countryside Access Strategy;
- the extent to which fair provision is made for all current and potential users, and reflects the needs of local people and businesses; and the co-ordinated use of resources to provide and manage integrated recreation and access, and the dissemination of information to interested groups and the wider public.

3. WHO ARE THE FORUM?

3.1 Members and representation

The Forum has been constituted so that:

- It is a balanced group, which avoids being dominated by single interests.
- It is representative of all interests, including; recreation use, land management, nature conservation, tourism, business, transport and access for all.

Many members have secondary interests as well as the primary interest for which they were appointed.

Member of the Yorkshire Dales Access Forum, Pat Whelan, giving a presentation on farming in the Yorkshire Dales.
